

9. Award Categories:

Following is the list of 2009 awards and criteria for winning. Criteria are taken from the 2009 World Championships Rules and Regulations Document:

World Champions Overall Total Points Score

N.B. A team will only qualify for this Award if the race car has complied to regulations below (this will be at the discretion of the judges):

1a / 2a / 2c / 2d / 2e / 2g / 2h / 2i / 3a / 3b / 3c / 3d / 3e / 4a / 4b / 7a / 7b / 7g / 7h / 7i

2nd Place - Overall Total Points Score

3rd Place - Overall Total Points Score

 Fastest Car Award – this will be awarded to the car that produces the fastest nett time over the 8 timed races – 4 automatic and 4 manual. (The nett time is the overall time less the reaction time on manual racing).

N.B. A team will only qualify for this Award if the race car complies to regulations:

1a / 2a / 2c / 2d / 2e / 2g / 2h / 2i / 3a / 3b / 3c / 3d / 3e / 4a / 4b / 7a / 7b / 7g / 7h / 7i

IMPORTANT – Car Below Weight – teams will lose 2 points per gram underweight. A 2g ballast will be added to the car per 1g under weight to take the car above the minimum weight. The car will then be raced to determine points score.

 Best Engineered Car Award – This will be awarded to the team that scores the highest accumulative points in the following categories:

- Specification
- Quality of manufacture
- Use of CAD
- F1 Car Design Process

N.B. A team will only qualify for this Award if both race and reserve cars comply to regulations:

1a / 2a / 2c / 2d / 2e / 2g / 2h / 2i / 3a / 3b / 3c / 3d / 3e / 4a / 4b / 7a / 7b / 7g / 7h / 7i
